5. TEACHING HISTORY AND ACADEMIC CAREER

In teaching, I wanted the students to familiarize themselves with the basic works of the most representative Romanian and foreign thinkers, to decipher the problematic and the ideatic structures of philosophical thinking, their evolution and to educate them in the spirit of freedom of thought, of relating to the perennial social values. I have coordinated dissertations both for Bachelor and Masters Degrees. In addition to this, I develop teaching and research activities with postgraduate students. Since 1990 I have been a member in several committees and coordinated papers for granting the teaching certification levels. Since 1995 I have also been a member of various doctoral committees.

Regarding my research activity, I have been particularly interested in the stages of the historical-philosophical process, in the main themes, views and orientations belonging to each stage, as well as in the topics of several applied philosophical fields such as: axiology and philosophy of culture, philosophy of history, philosophical anthropology, anthropology of culture, communication with the press and social values.
